RADICAL EVANGELICALISM:

The Legacy of

John Stott

Speaker: Chris Wright

15/06/23

Chris Wright was born in Belfast, Northern Ireland. Having completed a doctorate in Old Testament economic ethics at Cambridge, he served as an Assistant Pastor at the Parish Church of St. Peter and St. Paul in Kent.

He has since gone onto a number of significant Bible-teaching and leadership roles, including teaching at the Union Bible Seminary in India; time as Principal at All Nations Christian College training people for cross-cultural mission, and Chair of the Lausanne Theology Working Group. He was appointed International Director of the Langham Partnership in 2001, a group of ministries founded by John Stott to strengthen the evangelical church by providing resources and training. He has been Global Ambassador since 2021. He and his wife Liz attend All Soul's Langham Place, where Chris preaches as part of the staff team. They have four children and eleven grandchildren.
